

Distributed Systems Project Proposal

Group 06

Ahmed Mahfouz: 3500154; Hazem Ibrahim: 3574588; Mohamed Altaweel: 3280623

October 31, 2021

1 Introduction

The goal of this project is to develop a chat application known also as an instant messaging system. The software's primary goal is to provide users with an instant messaging tool that can handle millions of users simultaneously when needed and is simple to use. The application is intended to be used as a web application. It provides a general architecture for chat applications, and it can be used as the foundation for providing instant messaging capabilities by anyone or any organization.